Morningstar Country of Classification

Morningstar Indexes is continuing to evaluate the impact of a proposed enhancement to the country of classification (CoC) logic to reduce the number of unclassified companies, as outlined in a previous consultation. This proposal would make more securities eligible for inclusion in Morningstar equity indexes, including some that may only trade outside of the country to which they are assigned. Morningstar Indexes will apply the proposed rules for select indexes in a research environment at the June 2025 reconstitution to better gauge the portfolio-level impact of this proposal. We will provide an update on the final decision in July. If the proposal is adopted, it would not be implemented prior to December 2025.
